Banor Sim

Giovanni Carrara
becomes shareholder
in the Milanese asset management firm for
high net worth
clients.

From Credit Suisse, where throughout his career he handled investment for high net worth clients, to Banor SIM, where he will also become a shareholder and thus entrepreneur. Banker Giovanni Carrara will be entering the firm set up by CEO Massimiliano Cagliero: an operational role in the family office, with the focus on managing major fortunes. Banor manages €4.8 billion for its private banking clients. During his time with Credit Suisse Carrara was head of the Private Banking division and advisor for the trustee business, a role that he will retain.
